Tax Collections Set Record in August, Says John Hall

Tax collections in Narberth during August set a record, according to Tax Collector John R. Hall, who reported to Borough Council on Monday night.

Against a property tax duplicate of $84,715.20, collections of $53,614.92 in August added to previous collections leaves a balance of only $15,488.33 to be collected.

Against the occupational tax duplicate of $3625.96, August collections were $121.84, which added to previous collections leaves a balance of $1945.57 to be collected.

The noticeable increase in collections this year was attributed by Mr. Hall to the fact that fewer people are paying their taxes in installments this year and that many people paid their Borough and School taxes in full during August.

Narberth Men In Service Will Get Christmas Boxes From The Borough

House-To-House Canvass For $1500 Will Start Soon

The men and boys from Narberth who are in the country's armed service are going to get Christmas boxes from the community.

A representative group of Narberth citizens met at Elm Hall on Monday night and decided that unanimously.

But they decided against the presentation of a community festival or fair as the means of raising the necessary money.

Instead, a house-to-house canvass will be made in the Borough, with a goal of at least $1500.

A further motion was unanimously accepted that the funds so raised be used first to provide Christmas boxes for the men already in the service and secondly, if any balance remains, to provide kits or gift boxes as going-away presents from the community to those who leave in the future.

J. J. Cabrey was appointed permanent chairman of the drive and will organize canvass teams to cover the Borough thoroughly. James McCaffrey will be in charge of solicitation in the apartment buildings.

Mr. Cabrey announced following the meeting on Monday that a service flag will be provided and will be raised with formal ceremonies on a Sunday afternoon late this month or early in October.

Burns Best, Thomas Merkle and Henry A. Smith were appointed a committee to take charge of the ceremony.

Contest for School Children

With each box which the community of Narberth sends to its men in service, a message from the people of the Borough will be enclosed.

It has been decided that this message will be chosen from entries submitted by pupils of the Narberth Public School and St. Margaret's Parochial School.

To the boy or girl who composes the most fitting letter to accompany the Borough's gift, a $25 War Bond will be awarded. Entries will be judged by a committee to be named by J. J. Cabrey, chairman of the Gift Drive.

Principals of the two schools will be notified of the requirements for the contest and they will explain the details to the pupils.

The flag-raising will immediately precede the start of the house-to-house canvass. It was originally hoped to place the flag on a pole on the traffic island on the north side of the Narberth station of the Pennsylvania Railroad, but this was decided to be impractical due to the presence of a telegraph pole with a large number of wires leading from it in every direction. It is now believed that the best place for the Service Flag would be on the flag pole on the Community Playground.

Township Buys $100,000 War Bond

Purchase Is Expected to Put County Quota
Over the Top

Purchase of a $100,000 United States War Bond was authorized by Lower Merion Township commissioners Wednesday night.

The money will be taken from the sinking fund account which is held in certificates of deposit.

Evan L. James, manager of the Township in explaining the purchase, said that the U. S. War Bond would bear a better rate of interest than the certificates of deposit.

Purchase of the bond is expected to swell the quota of Montgomery County and put it over the top in the September campaign to stimulate the purchase of war bonds.

Lower Merion with Cheltenham Township in the York Road section of the County are taking the lead in a movement throughout Pennsylvania to have municipalities invest their public funds in war bonds.

Appointment of Conrad Barker, Jr., to replace Clarence Hoff as superintendent of the Township's four pumping stations was announced. The appointment was made August 15 and the salary is $2100 a year.

A leave of absence was granted to Robert Graham of the Sanitary Drainage Department to enter the Naval Air Corps.

Commissioners will hold a hearing October 21 on petitions to open and make public Sussex Rd. from Knox to Argyle Rds. and Lakeside Rd. from Wynnewood to Sussex in Wynnewood.

Schedule Given For Collection By Borough Trucks

Next week will be "Scrap Week" in Narberth.

Beginning with the week of September 21, the Borough's Fall and Winter schedule of ash and trash collection goes into effect, with the dump trucks covering the entire Borough once a week.

During the first week of the new schedule, it was decided by Borough Council on Monday night, special emphasis will be placed on the collection of scrap metal and other salvage material which can be of service in the National war effort.

"Comb your attic, your cellar, your storage closets, your garages," urges Council. "Dig up every available piece of scrap material, particularly metals of all kinds and of any size and help to."

"Junk the Axis with junk!" If your scrap is too large or too heavy for you to get it out to the curb on collection day, watch for the Borough truck and ask the collectors to come in and get it.

If, after you've sent off one load next week, you find more material, be sure to put that out in time for the next week's collection. All waste goes to the Lower Merion Township incinerator and before anything is burned, it is thoroughly examined and all that has any possibilities of re-use or reclamation in the war industries is separated and sent to the proper place.

The schedule for collections, beginning Monday, September 21, and continuing through the Fall and (Continued On Page Four)

Aged To Move Into New County Home

Small Rooms Will Replace Customary
Large Wards

Moving day is coming soon for many aged, infirm and ailing inmates of the Montgomery County Institution District Home and it's a day they are looking forward to. For it means they will move into the brand new, spic and span hospital building at the home which has just been completed.

Located on the District Home grounds at Black Rock, near Royersford, on the site of the old hospital which was torn down, the new structure combines every modern feature in construction and design providing for the best of medical and surgical care of the inmates.

Moving of ailing inmates into the new hospital will begin shortly and is expected to be completed by October 1. There will be no fanfare connected with the opening of the new $250,000 structure, as County Commissioners, Fred C. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch felt it was more important to get the patients installed and have the hospital functioning.

Designed in an "E" shape, the building is all one story with the exception of the administration unit which contains bedrooms for nurses on the second floor. One of the unique construction features, which caused favorable comment by an inspector of the State Department of Welfare, is hand rails along the halls to assist patients able to walk.

Another innovation has been provided by abandoning the customary large ward rooms and providing instead seven ward rooms of three, five, seven and nine beds. The Hospital is equipped with 92 beds, 46 in the men's section and the same number in the women's.

The men's and women's sections, each 170 by 51 feet, contain isolation, quarantine, sitting and sun rooms. There is mechanical ventilation in all wards, sitting rooms, etc., insuring even in winter an adequate supply of fresh, warmed air. Its construction is fireproof throughout and an emergency lighting system has been installed as well as a modern fire alarm system.

Bell made an appeal for party unity and stressed the importance of preserving the two party system.

Manoa Needs Two More Victories To Win Title; Series Will Be Resumed At Bergdoll Field Saturday

Fist Fight Enlivens
Game as Narberth
Drops, 3-2

Manoa A.A.'s scrappy baseball team is in an excellent position to avenge the humiliating defeat it suffered at the hands of Narberth in the 1939 Main Line League championship series. That season Narberth took the pennant in three consecutive games.

Manoa chalked up 3-2 and 3-1 victories in the opening games of the current title series last weekend and needs only another clean sweep this week to annex the 1942 championship.

"And we'll do it if it is humanly possible," vows Frank Matthew, Manoa manager.

The two teams return to Manoa Saturday for the third game of the seven-game series and will meet in the fourth game at Narberth on Sunday. Should rain or wet grounds prevent a game on Saturday, the Sunday contest will be played at Narberth just the same.

More than 2500 fans saw the two games last weekend, the throng that turned out for last Sunday's battle being the largest ever to witness a game at Bergdoll Field, Manoa. Due to the fact that the first games were filled with sparkling, bustling

The Penn Valley Garden Club held a small informal flower show Wednesday afternoon and evening at All Saints Church Parish House, Wynnewood. Mrs. Walter D. Fuller was chairman.

Over half of the 40 entrants won points, and many won mention. All exhibits contained outstanding blooms of quality. The miniatures still hold unique interest among visitors and exhibitors.

Mrs. Robert Taylor retains the President's Cup, having won the greatest number of points.

The children's class attracted a number of Penn Valley exhibitors. Ann Becker won first prize; Jane Watson, second; Joan Frazer, third; Polly Watson received honorable mention.

Mrs. E. M. Lyons, Mrs. L. H. Rittenhouse, and Mrs. Harry C. Tilly, 2nd, were the judges.

HIGH NOTES

by DAVID MALICKSON
Class of 1942
Lower Merion High School

Lower Merion ushered in its thirty-first academic year on Wednesday, September ninth.

In the past year a new technical school has been built. This building contains shops with the latest equipment for training students in machine construction, motor mechanics, welding, and other trades.

Lower Merion and its facilities have grown steadily since 1911, when it had an enrollment of 200 and a graduating class of 11. Today, Lower Merion has an enrollment of 1500 and a graduating class of 419.

The early part of the morning was spent in the gym, where George H. Gilbert, school principal, and Vincent V. Pearce, vice principal, addressed the student body. During this time Mr. Gilbert introduced 14 new teachers, some to take the place of men who had been on the faculty but are now in the armed services, while others were to teach in the new vocational school. Following the assembly the students went to their classes until 11:15, the dismissal time for that day.

The land opposite L. M. on Montgomery ave., has been made into a new athletic field because the new technical school was built on part of the old field.

Every sophomore and new student received a new L.M. handbook on the day of their arrival to Lower Merion. Many thanks to the Board of Education for making the publishing of this book possible.

Subscriptions are now being taken for the school paper, The Merionite, by its staff. The paper is published weekly at the price of a dollar a year, or will be mailed to anyone for $1.50.

Fall sports, cross-country, football, and soccer, have gotten under way at Lower Merion. We wish the best of luck to Mr. Mattis, football coach, Mr. Hill, soccer coach, and Mr. Hutton, cross-country coach and hope that the teams come through in the usual L.M. manner, with colors flying high.

The class periods this year are one hour long (except lunch) so that home study will be shortened, but not eliminated (shucks). Part of the period will be devoted to preparing the assigned home work.

Manoa Needs

So Davis will probably use Bill Smith, of Haverford High and Villa Nova College fame, and Stan Zatusky, the lanky right hander from Kensington, in that order. Manoa will send back Walt Cantwell, the fiery right hander, and Bob Allison, the bottle-browed veteran, in search of their second consecutive triumph.

Cantwell outpitched Smith in the opener last Saturday, limiting Narberth to just six hits. He also precipitated a free-for-all when he fired a ball at Buddy Walker's head following an argument over the outing of Dick Baker. Manoa's shortstop.

Here was the situation:

Narberth had just scored the first run of the game in the sixth when Buddy Potts tripped to right field and Al Cotton beat out an infield hit. Cotton was called safe at first on a very close play which Coach Howard Cates, of Manoa, protested vigorously.

When the teams changed positions at the end of the inning, Baker stopped on his way to his position to tell the umpire what he thought of his judgment, eyes etc. The Narberth fans along the third base line rode him unmercifully. Baker in turn hurled epithets at the fans. Whereupon Base Umpire Lehighy waved him off the field for using profane language.

Manoa protested with a vengeance. Coach Cates, running the club in the absence of Manager Frank Matthew, threatening to call his team off the field. Baker wasn't remonstrated. Pitcher Cantwell, in a race at the decision, put on his jacket and started walking toward the dressing rooms in center field. He had the game's baseball in his hand. He was near second base when Walker, more in jest than anything yelled, "Where are you going with that ball?" When Cantwell didn't answer, Walker commanded, "Put down that ball."

Cantwell stopped short, turned and fired the ball at Walker's head. Walker, usually very amiable, ducked the missile and then charged for the Manoa pitcher. In a twinkling they were swinging fists and other players and a couple of fans who came up from center field joined in.

Police quickly intervened before anyone was hurt, but it was fully 15 minutes before the field was cleared and the game was then resumed and that the team responsible for any more fighting would automatically draw a $100 fine.

"I didn't mind the squabble so much," admitted Hanley afterward. "It rather civilized things. What it might have led to is what upset me." He said he would take no other action than to warn the teams about their behavior in future games. "If we had tried to fine and suspend all the players who were in the scrap we wouldn't have had a game on Sunday," he said with a grin.

The fight evidently was the topic Manoa needed for victory. When the seventh inning finally got underway, the defending champs loaded the bases with none out on singles by Gwynn, Henderson and Riley. Smith bore down beautifully and fanned Miller and forced Gwynn at the plate on Cantwell's roller. However, he walked Schuchman to force Henderson and a single by Zercher scored Riley with the second run.

Manoa got its winning run in the eighth when Kaminsky reached base on Walker's two-base error and scored on Gwynn's single to center. Narberth got its final run the last half of this inning on two errors and a single by Potts.

Tales of the fight spread up and down the Main Line and fans who haven't seen a local game in years were in the stands Sunday. They saw a good game, but none of the anticipated fireworks. Manoa was out-hit, 6 to 4, but got its blows at timely moments and profited considerably on five Narberth errors, three of which were committed by Potts.

CALLING THE TURN

The weather this week has been rather unseasonable and the baseball playoffs in the Main Line League have been holding the spotlight but most everyone is happy that the football season is getting underway a week earlier than usual this year.

Lower Merion High School, champion of the Suburban Big Six last year, will kick off the lid in a game with West Philadelphia Saturday afternoon at Pennypacker Field. West Philadelphia is a formidable opening day opponent. The Speedboys won the Philadelphia Public League title and shared the city championship with West Catholic after the two teams fought to a scoreless tie in their post-season game last year.

Twelve lettermen are on the West Philly squad, which means that the Maroon will have to be mighty good to win. There are two things in L. M.'s favor: The fact that the game will be played at home and because L. M. should be farther advanced in its training. The Maroon has been practicing a week longer than the Speedboys.

Gone are the magnificent McCullough twins, the finest guards in L. M. history, and little, flashy Walt Holland, the will 'o the wisp halfback, but it appears that Coach Dick Mattis has another fairly strong team ready for the approval of the home fans.

Mattis is trying rather unsuccessfully to duplicate Bill Anderson's pessimistic role, while all rival coaches are naming Lower Merion as the No. 1 team in the Big Six again. Whether or not they are correct should be indicated in this opening test. If the Maroon proves capable of hurdling the Speedboys or giving them a very close game you can rest assured they'll do okay in conference competition.

So turn 'em loose, Coach Mattis, we want to see 'em go. Play ball!

GREAT MYSTERY SOLVED

Most baseball fans were baffled by the presence of Albie Schuchman, brilliant little Gladwyne out-felder, in Manoa's lineup in the Main Line League's opening series games last week. They were further puzzled by the sight of George Myers, veteran Gladwyne second baseman, in a Narberth uniform.

How come? Blame it on the war, then follow us while we try to get unconfused and explain: Both players were in there at the mutual consent of the managers of the two contending teams. But they didn't arrive at that "mutual consent" easily.

It all came about when Pooch Serra, Narberth second baseman, entered the Army last Thursday. Gene Davis, Narberth manager, asked Manoa if it would be okay if he used Myers in place of Serra inasmuch as the league had permitted Manoa to use Bob Brittingham, of Overbrook, when Dave McKay, Manoa shortstop, entered the service early in the preliminary playoffs.

This was okay with Frank Matthew, Manoa manager. Then he came up with a request of his own. How about allowing Schuchman to play with his club? Chet Zercher, Manoa centerfielder, had hurt his wrist in the final game with Gladwyne and they feared it was broken and that he wouldn't be able to play in the series.

Davis tactfully pointed out that Manoa had Joe Riley and Ollie Boyle on its list and should not need an extra outfielder. Manoa in turn claimed it couldn't rely on either; in fact, had to use pitchers in the outfield in its series with Gladwyne. Matthew indicated there was little chance of Boyle playing, because he had turned down the club in the preliminary playoffs in order to play in the Bucks County League.

Davis said he would be agreeable to Schuchman if Zercher couldn't play, providing that Boyle didn't play.

MUCH ADO OVER NOTHING

Then, after everything seemed set, an argument developed over Boyle. Manoa decided there was no reason why Boyle shouldn't play even if Schuchman did replace Zercher. Davis stuck to his original proposition: Okay to use Schuchman for Zercher so long as Boyle didn't play.

Finally the managers tossed the situation into the laps of the league executive committee. This committee couldn't agree on a decision and Walter Hanley, league president, tossed the situation back to the managers.

Quite upset, Hanley sent the following word to the managers: "I'm not going to be made the goat in this thing. You kicked your rules around all year, changed them and permitted loopholes over my protests. You've gotten yourselves into this mess. You'll have to get yourselves out. If you can't agree I'll make a ruling and it'll be this: You will stick to your list of original eligible players."

So with Charley Harnden, league secretary, acting as mediator, the two clubs finally agreed that Schuchman would be allowed to play only when Manoa didn't have three regular outfielders available. Narberth and league officials still being under the impression Zercher had a broken wrist and couldn't play.

As it turned out, Zercher had only a bad sprain and he played in both weekend games. So did Schuchman! The Gladwyne star played because Johnny Agatone, one of the regular outfielders, had been ill during the week and, according to Agatone, was under doctor's orders not to play over the weekend. However, he was in uniform on Manoa's bench both days.

Narberth, in the meantime, decided to use Myers only if short-handed and moved Russ Herrmann from the outfield to the vacant spot at second base.

"I think I was outfoxed," says Narberth's manager Davis. "I never had any idea Schuchman and Zercher would both play. But it's too late to do anything about it now."

Most fans thought it one of the screwiest situations ever. Most of them are still in a fog. Can you blame 'em?

Lower Merion Must Play West Phila. High Saturday Without Co-Capt. DeFelice

Lower Merion High School will have the honor of opening the football season for suburban schools when it opposes West Philadelphia High School Saturday afternoon at Pennypacker Field. The kickoff is slated for 2 p.m.

West Philadelphia, with 12 lettermen back from the team which won the Public League championship and tied for the Philadelphia city crown last year, looms as the strongest opening day opponent in Lower Merion's history.

Lower Merion most likely will be the underdog even though it will have six lettermen in its starting lineup and showed lots of promise in recent scrimmages with Upper Merion and West Catholic. The team will be fairly heavy, the line averaging about 170 pounds and the backfield about 164.

However, the Maroon's chances would be much better if Joe DeFelice, one of last year's backfield stars were able to play. Joe was elected co-captain with Jack Young, guard, just last Saturday, but won't even be in uniform Saturday. He has what is known as a secondary reaction of a leg injury that kept him out of the last two games last season. The doctors have ordered the rest cure. They don't know whether he'll be out a couple weeks or the entire season. Only time will tell.

In the meantime Coach Dick Mattis will have to get along the best he can. He confesses the team as now assembled lacks speed and needs a climax runner among other things. As to the West Philly game he is pretty definite: "I just don't see how we can win." He says, "If we don't look too bad we may be better later on."

Mattis was cheered considerably on Monday when Greer Heindel reported for practice. The captain-elect of the basketball team is an excellent end and probably will pair with the veteran Dick Whiting after this week. Heindel won't be ready for much action against West Philly.

In the meantime, Vernon Young, a converted halfback, will pair at end with Whiting. Bill Ellmaker, who makes the scales groan at 195 pounds, and Bob Williams, rangy veteran, will be the tackles. Co-captain Jack Young and Joe Dougherty will be at guard and Julius Becton will man the center berth. The lettermen on the forward wall are the two Youngs, Williams and Whiting.

The backfield will comprise Dan Poore and Warren Neville up from
